VICTIMS OF SUNSTROKE.

THE PROTRACTED AND INTENSE HEAT AND ITS EFFECTS.

Hundreds of People Succumb to the Excessive Temperature—A Long List of the Dead—The General Temperature Over One Hundred in the Shade—Particulars.

CINCINNATI, July 19.—The maximum temperature of Saturday as marked by the signal service thermometer was 95 degrees at 4 p. m., while the minimum recorded was 87 at 8 a. m. Other thermometers in the city registered over 100 degrees. Sunday the heat grew more and more intense as the day wore on from the minimum of 81.9 degrees at 6 a. m., to 100.4 degrees, the maximum, at 4 p. m. This is the highest point the mercury has reached for six years, and it was positively suicidal to be exposed to the sun at that temperature.

There were thirty-eight prostrations from the heat reported Sunday. Of these sixteen proved fatal. The following is the death list: John Davis, 212 State avenue; John McKenzie, 683 Eastern avenue; Patrick Clark, Front and Mill; Joseph Mosbrocker, 69 Allison; Michael Murray, 24 Pierson; Mrs. Sarah Smith, 31 Race; Philip Rautz, Oliver and Lynn; Barney Steigman, 619 Queen City avenue; John Lahman, residence unknown; Michael Pinchencham, 386 West Fifth; James Frick, 173 Woodward; Mrs. John Baasch, 125 Monitor; William Welsh, Lock street; Conrad Walz, 724 Central avenue; an unknown man; Joseph Horn, Colerain avenue and Craig street.

The following were prostrated with whom serious results are feared: Israel Walter, aged forty-eight, of Richmond and Central; Herman Von der Heide, of Woodward and Pendleton; Michael Harrigan, of 376 Broadway; Lieut. Newt Kendall, of Plum and Fifth; George Smith, aged fifty-eight, Findley and Central; Henry Saunders, of Hunt and Spring; Thomas Delaney, of Ninth and Central; Ned Halleron, 230 W. Third; Burt Cassidy, Enquirer artist; Gregor Blauz, aged 60, lower river road, near Lead street.

The following were stricken but are expected at once to recover: Rudolph Schworer, aged forty-seven, of 54 Sycamore street; Henry Brinker, of 147 Abigail street; Henry Spellbrink, aged sixty, of 121 Spring street; Mrs. Glanville, of 141 Woodward; Frank Wilson, of Cumminsburg; Michael O'Garra, of 304 Court street; John Reusch, aged twenty-two, of 83 McKicken avenue; Chris. Dick, aged forty-three, of Monroe and Kibbey; Louis Kirkwell, aged thirty-one, Lick Run pike; John McMahon, of Pearl and Broadway; Andy Reilly, aged fifty-five, of Clifton avenue and Calhoun; Fred Wilberry, of Gest and Harriet; Thomas Connors, aged twenty-three, of 436 George street; Henry Stoder, aged twenty-eight, of 22 Barr street.

The highest temperature reported here by the signal office was 100 4-10 degrees, but in some of our sister cities it was worse than that. Evansville, Ind., for instance, had 104 degrees, and only two sunstrokes. Fort Wayne ranged from 98 to 102 degrees, with one fatal case. Ohio towns ran: Xenia 101 degrees, Wilmington 104 degrees, Dayton 109 degrees, Youngstown 98 degrees, Wooster 104 and 108 degrees, Cleveland 95 degrees, Madisonville 135 degrees in the sun, Bellair 103 degrees, and all manufacturing stopped, and Van Wert 102 degrees.

Indianapolis has had hotter weather only once, July 10, 1881—when it was 101 degrees. Yesterday it was 100.4 degrees. Only four cases of prostration occurred, two being fatal.

Louisville also suffered, and had ten cases of sunstroke. The mercury stood at 99 degrees; hotter than it has been down there this year.

Dispatches from elsewhere show that the heat was widespread and terrific. In the vicinity of New York, at Washington, Milwaukee and Chicago rainstorms in the afternoon somewhat mitigated the severity of the heat, and lessened the number of fatalities. The deaths and extremes of heat from points were as follows: Pittsburgh six deaths, 101 in the shade; Joliet, Ill., sixteen convicts were overcome in their cells in the prison and two died; the thermometer in the prison registered 113 degrees. Milwaukee had two deaths and 100 in the shade before the storm; Nashville, Tenn., two deaths and 98 degrees; Galesburg, Ill., four deaths and 94 degrees; Pekin, Ill., four deaths and 103 degrees; Wheeling, W. Va., two deaths and 104 1-2 degrees; Detroit, two deaths and 100 degrees.

When to-day was found to be cloudless and as hot as its predecessor, there was a hopeless feeling throughout the city. Everybody has now passed through several days which were hotter than had been known for several years, and through several nights but little cooler than the days. A state of exhaustion prevailed. A large number of persons have quit work. Those employed on the Vine street driving station and cable road began the day's labor, but finding the heat too severe, quit work at 11 a. m. Enough men are working upon the granite paving to make a good showing, but those who work, especially those who handle the heated gravel and boiling pitch, suffer terribly.

The foundrymen are quitting and will close down unless the weather changes. Upon the streets there is an unusual quiet. Thousands of people do not venture out at all, but hide themselves in darkened rooms and cool themselves with fans and ices. Most of those who walk keep in the shade and go leisurely, and those who drive do not urge the poor animals beyond reason. The extreme heat, perhaps, bears most heavily upon the workmen and his family. He works hard all day, and goes home exhausted to find his poor wife and poor little ones almost dead in their confined, oven-like quarters. All retire in their confined space to bake and broil until morning, and take up the tedium of another day.

Cincinnati continues to be the hottest point in this vicinity, and as hot as any place in the country. At 7 a. m. the signal service thermometer here registered 84 degrees above zero. St. Louis, Lynchburg, Va.; Charleston, S. C.; Charlotte, N. C., and Augusta, Ga., were the only other points where the mercury reached 84 above. In this vicinity, Indianapolis and Columbus registered 80, and Pittsburg 82. Washington, D. C., has 82 in the shade, and Leavenworth, Kan., has 70.

The indication for the Ohio valley, beginning at 3 p. m., is slightly lower temperature. There are some rains in the country—at Pensacola, Fla., New York city and Davenport, Iowa, but none near enough to aid us. Brownsville, Tex., and Jacksonville, Fla., are comfortable places, with only about 74 degrees of heat.

The signal service observations here reported 99 8-10 degrees at 2 o'clock, but the thermometers of various business men ranged from 98 to 102 degrees in the shade.

The following is the list of to-day's fatalities: J. J. Healy, Queen City hotel; Paul Viola, boards at 58 West Sixth; George Allen, 230 West Third; Conrad Walz; two men now in the dead room at the hospital; William Jones, died at the hospital, residence unknown.

The following cases of prostration were reported:

William Guy, aged forty-three, a baker at Volz's Sixth street bakery, was prostrated by heat at Sixth and Vine at 11 a. m. He was removed to the hospital and his case is serious.

Fursten Siever, aged thirty-nine, a tanner, of Wade and Central avenue, was prostrated by heat at the American Oak Leather company's, where he is employed.

Richard Jones, a reporter on the Evening Post was overcome by the heat at 11 a. m., and had to be taken home.

An unknown man was prostrated by heat at Fifth and Walnut at 10 a. m. He was well dressed and a bystander said he lived at Vito and Allison streets. He was taken to the hospital.

Shorty Thomas, a butcher, became overheated at Kuhl's slaughter house at 10 a. m. He was taken to the hospital and is in a dangerous condition.

Coroner's Clerk Julius Weber is at home sick from the excessive heat.

Sergeant Leuckering, of the Olive street district, was prostrated by the heat in Chief of Police Deitch's office this morning.

Fred Conners, laborer, aged twenty-nine, working on Jefferson street, Corryville, was prostrated at 10 a. m. He was taken to the hospital. His condition is dangerous. He lives at 307 W. Liberty street.

Mike Pierman, cook, aged thirty-five, employed at Reany's saloon at Hunt and Broadway, was overcome while cooking at 11 a. m. He was taken to the hospital, and his condition is dangerous.

At 8 o'clock Frank Meyer, aged forty, a stonecutter by trade, and employed by Jacob Meier, was prostrated by the heat. He was on his way to work, but at Race and Canal he succumbed to Old Sol's rays. He was taken to his home, 287 Hopkins street. His condition is considered serious.

William Krug, aged thirty-six, was prostrated about 8:30 a. m. He was at work at Barney Flegie's saloon, Spring Grove avenue and Chambers street, when he toppled over. His condition is serious.

William Warren, aged fifty, head waiter at Voitz' restaurant on Sixth street, was overcome with the heat at 11 a. m. and removed to the city hospital by Patrol No. 1. His case is quite serious.

William Hauer, constable in Squire Bright's office, lies at his home at Race and Liberty, prostrated by the heat. His condition is serious.

Herman Fritzsche, driver of the Covington and Cincinnati express, was sunstruck at noon, and his condition is considered critical.

Besides the above there were a number of cases reported which were not considered of a serious nature.

At Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Sunday was the hottest day in years. The maximum temperature was 102. A heavy rainstorm toward evening reduced the temperature twenty-three degrees. Forty-five cases of sunstroke occurred, more than twenty fatal. Saturday over thirty deaths since resulted from sunstroke. The total deaths since Saturday noon till this morning number sixty-seven. The hospitals are all full and many patients are past recovery.

Convicts Overcome by Heat.

JOLIET, Ill., July 19.—Fourteen convicts were overcome by heat in the prison yesterday and had to be taken from the galleries to the idle house, where it was cooler. Sixteen went to the hospital during last week and two have died. The authorities have lessened the tasks of the prisoners on account of the intense heat.

A Mayor Stricken Down.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 19.—Mayor Denny was overcome by the heat while presiding over the police court this morning. He was carried home insensible. His condition is critical. The temperature is 103 on the streets at noon. There have been four cases of prostration to-day and three deaths yesterday.

The Heat in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 19.—The Tribune says that the record shows that seventy persons succumbed to the heat yesterday while thirty-seven others were reported as prostrated and there is no doubt that many cases of prostration were not reported at all.

At Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—It was 102 in the shade Sunday. Thirty cases of sunstroke occurred, fourteen fatal. It was the hottest in thirty years, excepting July 8, 1875.

At St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 19.—Thermometers ranged from 101 to 106 yesterday. Sixteen deaths occurred from sunstroke.

Fell Dead at His Friends' Feet.

AKRON, O., July 19.—Charles Hanscom, one of the best known of Akron's old residents, pitched forward on his face as he went to the door to greet friends who called on him Sunday night. He was dead before help came. There was one case of sunstroke in the city Sunday which will prove fatal.

Deadly Fight at Lexington.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 19.—A terrible fight between negroes took place in Pralltown, a suburb of this city, last night, in which George Whiting had his jaw broken with a rock, and Wes. Whiting, his son, had his bowels cut out by John Pohman. Wes. will probably die. All were arrested.

Train Wrecker Arrested.

NEW ORLEANS, July 19.—Detectives Saturday arrested a young man named Alonso Kevin, on a charge of wrecking a train on the Iron Mountain railroad a week ago. He will be taken to St. Louis.

THE BULGARIAN TROUBLE

A WISE CONCLUSION ARRIVED AT BY PRINCE FERDINAND.

He Will not Ascend the Bulgarian Throne Without the Consent of the Powers—Interest in the Meeting of the Two Great Emperors—Other Foreign Affairs.

LONDON, July 19.—While the Bulgarians are in a state of doubt as to their future ruler, and are wondering if he will be the prince, reported by some to be a young gentleman found to parting his hair in the center, and fond of displaying his diamonds and jewelry, and by others as a very solemn for wisdom and forethought, albeit he is the possessor of few years and a pair of spindly legs, while Russia declines to abide by the selection of a sobranje which she holds in contempt, and menaces Austria for aspiring to place one of her superabundant princes on the precarious throne of the Bulgars; while some of the powers profess to be satisfied, and while the newspapers are suggesting and advising and predicting about the situation, two men, one over ninety, and the other nearly sixty, who will meet in a few days, will probably control to a great degree the wavering fortunes of little Bulgaria.

Prince Ferdinand himself, as though corroborating the opinion of those who claim carefulness for him, as prudently and modestly declines to avail himself of his election by the sobranje, and declares his intention of waiting for the decree of the powers. This is wise, for if any country was ever governed by powers outside her own borders, that country is Bulgaria. There can no longer be any doubt that the meeting at Gastein between the two emperors is important. What is determined in regard to the disposition of the Bulgarian throne in that little village in the Austrian tyrol undoubtedly will sway the decision of the powers nightly. If an amicable arrangement is arrived at by the Emperors William and Joseph, Russia will hardly like to dispute that arrangement in her present condition.

In view of the alarming accounts of her army, officered as it is by foreigners, and with her internal troubles, constantly fomented by the Nihilists and Socialists despite her utmost endeavors to another war, Russia is totally unprepared for war. Reports of her true condition creep out from time to time, ending the strict censorship of the press and outside communication, and it is well known in German quarters that Russia is not the formidable power she has been and would still be thought to be. Turkey, Italy, France and England will be satisfied with any arrangement for Bulgaria that does not overstep the Berlin treaty, and undoubtedly the question resolves itself into what the meeting at Gastein on the 25th will decide.

If the two emperors agree that Prince Ferdinand is eligible for the Bulgarian throne, very likely the world will be obliged to recognize the young Austrian as the monarch of the Bulgars. But to those who now study the question the whole matter appears a farce. A Bulgarian ruler is ruler only in name, and it matters very little whether Ferdinand or some one else is the man, except that it is a price, owing to his large private resources, is less likely, perhaps, than another to bleed the revenues of the little principedom.

The Plumed Knight Abroad.

LONDON, July 19.—Mr. Blaine has been pressed to attend the Parnell banquet at London next Wednesday. The political magnificence of the event is anticipated by a gorgeous circular signed by seventy-three Gladstonian members, in which they say they have decided to express their sympathy for the Irish people and their representatives at this trying period of their National history. Mr. Blaine has received one of these letters from three Irish members, urging him to be present. He said yesterday he thought he would leave his family here and run down to London Tuesday night. While at Dunfermline he was interviewed by an Edinburgh editor, to whom he said he was delighted at the prospect held out by many politicians here that the Gladstonians would sweep the boards at the next general elections in Scotland.

Saturday afternoon Messrs. Blaine, Hale, Carnegie and King took a fifteen mile spin with the four-in-hand to Forgandenny, Fort Erict, Dupplin castle, seat of the Earl of Kinross, and around by Glasgow pike through Perth. The ladies went to Perth and visited several of the manufactories. Dancing on the green was the evening entertainment. Sunday the entire party attended Auld Kirk Presbyterian church, and later met at dinner its three old-fashioned but cultured ministers. It is not yet decided whether the party will take the four-in-hand to the highlands or make a quicker railroad trip.

What Chamberlain Believes.

LONDON, July 19.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain writes the Radical Union at Birmingham that he believes that Sir George Trevelyan accepted the Vaguest assurances from Mr. Gladstone in order to get back to Parliament. If the Bridgeton electors doubt this, let them ask Mr. Gladstone whether he would maintain the supremacy of the special parliament if he would retain the Irish members, protect the Protestant ministry and other salient points in the issue.

Unparliamentary Language.

LONDON, July 19.—A whip has been issued urging the Conservatives of the house of commons to be present in force to discuss the conduct of Dr. Tanner, Parnellite member of parliament, toward Mr. Walter Hume Long, Conservative member of parliament, in the lobby of the house of commons, on Friday night last, when the former called the latter a "damned mob."

Conference on Irish Affairs.

DUBLIN, July 19.—In a letter published today Archbishop Walsh urges the government to suspend evictions until the land bill is passed, and suggests a conference of the various political leaders with regard to the Irish affairs.

Evading the Issue.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 19.—All the powers have returned evasive replies to the circular note of the ports with regard to the selection of Prince Ferdinand to the throne of Bulgaria.

A Heavy Failure.
LONDON, July 1.—John Nash Peake, a colliery owner of Staffordshire has failed. Liabilities estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

TWO TERRIFIC STORMS.

Many Boats Capsized and a Number of Lives Lost in New York Bay.

New York, July 19.—Two of the most terrific wind and rain storms ever experienced in this vicinity swept over the country Sunday, the first about noon and the second at midnight. Each storm was of about an hour's duration. Preceding the storms the weather was oppressively hot, and thousands of people were on the bay in pleasure boats of all sizes and descriptions. That many lives were lost is certain, and upturned boats are found in abundance along the shores. The steamer Columbia, with 2,000 souls on board, was on her way to Rockaway when the squall struck her. She had almost reached there, but seeing the squall, put out to sea. The passengers were frightened at the prospect of running to sea before such a howling tempest. Women screamed and fainted and became panic stricken. The upper decks were crowded, the passengers fearing to go into the cabin lest the vessel sink and they be drowned like rats in a hole. These were drenched by the rain. The storm was safely rode out and the vessel returned with a wretched lot of occurrences.

The yacht Tough, of this city, was sailing near Staten Island when the storm arose. Those on board of her saw another yacht with five occupants go over. The five men were drowned. Jacob Scheverstein and his nine-year-old son, of Brooklyn, were boating on Canarsie bay. Several acquaintances of Mr. Scheverstein took four boats out, and they were all between Ruffin bar and Van Wycklen's mill, when the gale struck them. The little Scheverstein boy was drowned. His father, who is an old man, dived twice for him, and brought him up twice, but he was too weak to save him. The body was not recovered.

Twenty minutes before the storm three young men, accompanied by three young women, hired a yawl, and started out. About 100 yards off the Communipaw shore they hoisted the sail, and a moment afterward the squall struck it and capsized the boat. The women had raised umbrellas which helped to buoy them up, and their escorts left them to their own resources while they devoted their attention to righting the boat. Mary Tice, aged sixteen, who is noted in the locality for skill with the oar, volunteered to go to the rescue. Accompanied by John Wood she jumped into a yawl, and a minute or two later she and Wood hallooed the party in.

Dr. Cyrus Edison, of the health board, had a narrow escape. He was rescued from a sinking boat off Staten Island. The police patrol boats saved many lives. A number of houses in the suburbs were unroofed and several persons injured by the flying debris.

A Fatal Accident.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 19.—News is just received here of a fatal accident which occurred Saturday evening, twenty miles above this city, on the river on the Indiana side. On the extensive peach farm of Argus Deans is an elevated railroad used in conveying the fruit from the top of a large hill to the bottom, for shipment. On Saturday, while four men named Louis Littell, Rollo Bald, Dick Moore and Chaney Baird were descending the hill in the car, the cable broke, the car rushing down with great velocity, throwing out the men with such force as to cause the death of Littell and Rollo Baird and the fatal injury of Moore and Chaney Baird.

Shot Dead in a Saloon.

HAMILTON, O., July 19.—News has just reached this city of the murder of Whitmore McClung, a brother of City Solicitor D. M. McClung, of this city. He was shot through the head and instantly killed by John Kelly, at Mason, O., in Bill Tibbe's saloon. The quarrel originated over the muzzling of a dog. McClung was well connected, and leaves a large number of relatives. Kelly was arrested. The coroner's inquest is now being held. Great excitement prevails at Mason, and threats of lynching are rife.

Murder or Self-Destruction?

COLUMBUS, Ind., July 19.—A party of fishermen, composed of Frank and Ivory Cutsem, James Thompson, Elias Meyer and Riley Spurgeon, camping on the White river below here, were joined by Mary Howe and Rosa Schutt, hard cases from Indianapolis. Mrs. Howe was found Saturday morning lying in the river. As there were marks of violence on the body the whole party was held in $500 bail and the coroner will investigate. Mrs. Howe had often threatened suicide.

A Sunday Morning Lynching.

NELSON, Neb., July 19.—One hundred men broke into the county jail at 1 o'clock Saturday morning, seized Max Conrad, and taking him to a bridge about a mile from town, hanged him to a beam. Conrad murdered Henry Sallen, his neighbor, last Thursday, and robbed him of $500. The vengeance of the mob was aroused by the death of Mrs. Sallen, who was in a delicate condition, and was killed by the shock caused by her husband's murder.

The Jake Sharp Case Postponed.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The argument on the order to show cause why a permanent stay of execution of the sentence of Jacob Sharp should not be granted, will be heard to-day. The district attorney has informed Sharp's counsel that he is not prepared to go on. A formal motion to postpone the hearing will be made before Judge Potter, of the supreme court chambers. The hearing was then adjourned until Friday next by consent.

HARRISON, O., July 19.—I. S. ("Major") Frost, aged twenty-six, a well known young fellow of this place, was drowned in White river, Saturday night, being seized with cramps. He was a Knight of Pythias and will be buried by that order.

Car Works Burned.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 19.—The Terre Haute car works were destroyed by fire last night. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss, $100,000; insurance, $60,000. Seven hundred and fifty men are thrown out of employment.

The all-important thing for the Democrats to do now is to see that the full vote is polled on the first Monday in August.

REPUBLICANS throughout the State are said to be active and zealous and to have made arrangements to get out every vote at the approaching election. Have the Democrats done as much?

The Prohibitionists of Fayette County have nominated Wm. Van Pelt for the Legislature in place of J. C. Woodward, who declined to run. Van Pelt has been a Republican for years.

Down in Owen County the Democrats are counting on winning the banner by giving Buckner and the rest of the State ticket 3,000 majority. Mason County ought to give a majority of not less than 500, but the Democrats must get out the vote if they expect to do this well.

Says the Lexington Transcript: "Learning that one of his storekeepers and gaugers was running for office, Gen. J. F. Robinson, Collector for this district, recently wrote to him as follows: 'I have established a rule not to permit any Internal Revenue officer in my district to become a candidate for, or hold any other office. Learning that you are now a candidate for office, I have, therefore, had your commission revoked, the revocation of same being herewith enclosed.'

"This rule was established by General Robinson shortly after he became Collector, and it has been strictly enforced by him in every instance in the past, and he informs us that it is his intention to carry it out in every case in the future."

Progress in Kentucky.

In a public speech at Franklin the other day Col. Swope is reported as saying that on account of Democratic mismanagement of the State "capital was leaving Democratic Kentucky to seek safety in Republican Kansas." It is quite probable that Colonel Swope was correctly reported. From the beginning of the present campaign Republican orators seem to have taken particular pains to belittle their State and to attempt to show that Kentucky is far behind her sister States in the matter of progress and improvements. These orators forget that the "booms" in Kansas they talk so much about are not the "booms" they were a few short months ago. The people are not told that many, very many of the boasted "booms" in other States have collapsed and left the investors of capital to get out as best they may. The "boom" at Wichita is not what it was a few months ago, and it is doubtful whether any man who bought real estate there then could pull out even now. These Republican orators fail to tell their hearers all the facts in the case, simply because they wish the people of Kentucky believe that Democratic mismanagement has driven capital away from the Commonwealth, as though the State officials at Frankfort could force capitalists to put their money anywhere.

Their charge, however, is not true. The records will show just what progress has been made in Kentucky, and in the past few years these records will show that this progress has been highly creditable. "If there hasn't been any 'booms' in our State, there has been that steady growth which is lasting. And this steady growth and improvement is more marked now than ever before, perhaps, in the history of the State. The attention of capitalists has been drawn to our immense fields of undeveloped wealth, and the railroad enterprises now under way will open this wealth to the world. In the course of a few years, Kentucky's progress will place her along with any State in the Union, and this progress will be under Democratic rule.

The following, relative to this subject, is taken from an address delivered not long ago by Governor Knott. He said:

"Permit me also in this connection to disabuse your minds, if they have been unfortunately imbued with the impression which appears to be prevalent among many, that there is really no such thing as 'progress' in Kentucky. We hear of booms in Tennessee, booms in Alabama, booms in Kansas, and booms in other States, but none in our own, and I am glad of it. I prefer the steady, healthful glow of the sunlight to the startling but momentary glare of the meteor, and I propose to show by a brief reference to a few well-authenticated facts, that in those things that constitute a sound, substantial prosperity, the progress which Kentucky is making is not only gratifying, but far in advance of some of the States with which she has frequently been invidiously compared by many who appear to have been totally ignorant of the real facts.

The latest report upon the Internal Commerce of the United States made by the Bureau of Statistics at Washington shows that the amount of capital invested in mining and manufacturing industries in Kentucky during the two years ending December 30, 1886, was $16,707,200—$20,022,200 more than in Alabama, notwithstanding all that has been said of her remarkable progress—$30,233,200 more than in Arkansas; $3,533,200 more than both combined, and, with the exception of those two, $7,336,400 more than all the other Southern States together; and that the increase in the value of products manufactured in the State from 1880 to 1885 was $16,119,000 greater than the increase for the entire preceding decade; that while the increase in the sales of leaf tobacco in the great market at Louisville was 22,279 hogsheads, or 51 per cent, for the ten years, from 1870 to 1880, the increase for the following five years was 42,899, or 65 per cent, reaching the enormous amount of 107,674 hogsheads in the single year 1885; while for the same year—the last one reported—we had an increase upon the one preceding of 8,124 mules; 11,156 horses; 28,196 cattle; 334,000 bushels of wheat; 18,699,000 bushels of corn, and 17,455,600 pounds of tobacco.

"To these facts, which are of themselves abundantly sufficient to show the healthy and gratifying progress of Kentucky, it may be added that we now have under contract and in process of rapid construction 501 miles of new railroad, against 102 miles constructed last year—more in fact than can be claimed for any other State in the Union, with perhaps a single exception."

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

Hervy is in town. Look out for rain. Charlie went to sleep and rolled off the log. Mop, sweat, a terrible expansion of weather. Smoke "Semper Idem" "—always the same. Lawyer Bambach, of Ripley, was here Saturday. S. C. Bradford returned Tuesday from Kansas City. Miss Lou Donaldson is spending a few days at home. Bruce Easton is rusticated here, but not on an elevator. Captain Power has returned home from Portsmouth. Dave Davis and family have been visiting relatives here. Aberdeen's greatest blessing—Simmons' medicated well. Turnipseed is now keeping fresh meat on hand at all times. Mrs. Wheeler, of Lewis County, Ky., is visiting friends here. Miss Lillie Rosendall is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. P. Campbell. Messrs. Bricker and Ward were in the Queen City last week. Wind-raisers are now in demand. Two for 5 cents at Marvin's bazaar. Who killed Cock Robin? Ask John Martin or Louis Zech, at Red Corner. Mr. Milburn Harover and family, of Iowa, are visiting the family of W. R. Ellis. Maud Underwood, after a pleasant visit to friends at West Union, has returned home. Miss Maud Wilson returned home from Frankfort, Ky., Saturday for a month's visit. Charles Simmons, representing A. H. Poundsford & Co., Cincinnati, was in town Saturday. They say Scott Spears is married. It is to be hoped that his mind will now become tranquilized. Miss Lulu Pollard and Miss Bayless, of West Union, O., are the guests of Miss Maud Underwood. Misses Little and Rosa Stevens, of Paris, Ky., are visiting their grand parents, Mr. and James Harding. Master Oils Sutton is doing Augusta, Ky., during the heated term, visiting his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Galbraith. Henry Hoffman, proprietor of the Boddman Warehouse, Cincinnati, purchased the hotel property Saturday at a price of $4,500. Can Sir Peter explain the reason the mighty Lawrence did not get the five hogsheads of tobacco and passengers the other day? There will be a series of meetings held at the Baptist church shortly, when several eminent divines will take part in the services. Ida Spears, through her agent, O. B. Spears, sold her half interest in the tobacco purchase of Stephenson & Co. to F. M. Stephenson for the neat little sum of $3,500 clear. When you want a genuine bargain in clothing look on to the Red Corner, Zech & Co., Mayville. You get your money's worth every time, and no condescension.

They say a good husband, with cheerfulness bears his wife's bills and never grows a bit. We make mention of the fact that he would be quite as curious at the same time. Johnny may make a mistake in delivering papers. Once on a time, as the story goes, the BULLETIN had a carrier in this place that was born so utterly worn out, that he would not deliver them at all. It is to be hoped the Republican won't fare so badly. Somebody says the piano is a noisy animal. Not half so much so as a six-months' old baby with the colic, especially if you let it alone. But when a fourteen-year-old mule hops down on the stool, and thumps it a-la-John-Sullivan a few times, it gets fractious and kinder jars the nerves. Love is worse than the measles. When you see a fellow parading around, the thermometer standing at 99° in an ice-box, his shirt collar wilted and run down in his vest pocket, drops of sweat big as a goose egg, standing out in bold relief on his forehead, and trying to make his girl believe that it is most too cool to eat ice cream—something wrong. Hon. Jesse Ellis, attorney at law, is the most successful pension attorney in this neck of the woods. He represents all of the best insurance companies. Policies written at lowest rates. Special attention to claims, and all business entrusted to him will receive prompt personal attention. Office at residence, Second street, Aberdeen, O. XXX.

Gems in Tailoring Goods.

Mr. Hechinger has kindly shown us through the different lines of samples of piece goods his house has bought for next fall's trade. It will take one with a good deal of decision to make a choice, the selection is so extensive and varied, and withal so uniformly beautiful that one wonders how so many designs can be worked into gentlemen's garments. It is rather perplexing to us to give our readers the various names and styles of the samples we looked at. We will leave that part to our friend Hechinger. By the way, the firm has continued their contract with Mr. Charles A. Walther, their cutter, for next year. Mr. Walther, in the brief number of years he has been in Maysville, has reason to be proud of the reputation he has established for himself and the firm he cuts for. Wherever his work is seen it is appreciated, and it is well known that the past season has been the busiest that Hechinger & Co. ever had in their clothing department.

Death From Alcoholism.

A dispatch from Lexington gives the particulars of Berry Taylor's death, as follows: "About 12 o'clock last Saturday night Berry Taylor, aged forty, a saddler, lately in the employ of Will Gormley, of Richmond, Ky., staggered into O'Lee's restaurant, and was in the act of sitting down, when young O'Lee told him to go out—that no drunken man should sit inside. Taylor went out, and just as he got to the edge of the pavement, fell. A policeman took him to the station-house at once, when it was found that the man was dead. It was learned that the unfortunate man had been on a spree for the past three weeks, and the opinion is he died a victim to alcoholism. The Coroner held an inquest Sunday morning, and rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts."

Circuit Court Proceedings.

The grand jury reported the following indictments:
William Banks, colored, arson.
Amanda Warren, colored, concealing birth of a bastard child.
Henry Bingle and James Bingle, assault with intent to kill.
William Yates, colored, assault and battery.
Will Chapple and others, willfully and unlawfully injuring property of another.
Same, same offense.
John Fitzgerald and Pete King, Sabbath breaking.
Same, selling liquor without license.
Same, same offense.
Bench warrants were ordered in all the above cases, allowing bail in sums ranging from $100 to $500.
The grand jury produced the usual report paying deserved compliments to various county officials, after which it was discharged for the term.

The crime was committed ten miles east of Flemingsburg at Muse's Mills."

Stock and Crops.

Some of the farmers of Jackson County are refusing 15 cents for their tobacco. The tobacco crop of Mercer, it is estimated, will not be 25 per cent. of that of last year.
J. M. Byar, of Minerva, has sold his purchase of tobacco to Cincinnati parties at a net profit of $3,600.
People who are talking about tobacco going down do not realize that less than one half a crop has been put out and that is not flourishing. W. E. Knox, one of the largest and most successful tobacco raisers in Nicholas County, said that scarce a third of last year's crop would be raised this year. This is not only true in Nicholas but everywhere.—Carlisle Mercury.

Says the Danville Advocate: "The exceedingly warm weather of the past week has been very damaging to drovers of stock, hogs and sheep especially. One day the past week a gentleman living near Stewart, this county, went to change his hogs from one field to another where water was more plentiful, the distance being less than a mile. He got there all safely, but the next morning when he went to feed them he found seventeen of the number dead. They would average 250 pounds."

A special from Flemingsburg says the tobacco market at that place has been cornered by Louisville and Lexington parties. "Prices have advanced over 100 per cent. in thirty days, being fourteen cents and a fraction, as compared with seven cents at the June sales. Two and a half million pounds have changed hands in the past week. Board of Trade methods are pursued, the buying combination merely margining lots, and in case they fail to sustain the market the dealers will still have the tobacco, plus one cent a pound, which is the margin or bonus."

The Farmers' Review, of Chicago, says: "The drouth throughout the North-western States is injuring all crops more or less. Corn, though not materially damaged so far, is commencing to show the effects of the dry season, and must suffer considerably if rain does not fall soon and in sufficient quantities. As a result of the drouth, the oat crop is ripening too fast, and will hardly make three-quarters of an average crop if the drouth continues. Potatoes and apples do not promise much more than a half crop. Hay hardly reaches these figures."

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."
Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

There were over twelve thousand head of stock delivered at the Covington Stock Yards Sunday.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free trial bottles of this standard remedy at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell, & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

STRUGGLES OF TERRITORIES TO GET INTO THE UNION.

Some Who Had to Wait as Long as Twelve Years After the First Trial—Funds for Transporting the Army Running Short—The Situation in Liberia.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—It is pretty evident that the next congress will not be able to keep the doors locked against the territories. They have been knocking for a long time and some of them came pretty near getting the door open last session. Now they are knocking again, nearly half a year before congress begins its session, and it is pretty evident they are going to be heard this time. Talks with members of congress who are here show a growing disposition to listen to these demands, and it is pretty safe to say that the close of the fiftieth congress will find the list of states containing forty states, perhaps more.

The importunities of some of the territories have been so long and well sustained, that it does not seem that congress can hold out much longer. It is a curious fact that congress during the first twenty-five years has had to be begged and labored with just about as long before it will do anything in this line. Colorado, the last state to be admitted, was struggling for that happy lot twelve years before she got there. Her first enabling act was passed, and her first constitution adopted in '54, a dozen years before she was finally admitted by presidential proclamation. Nebraska made application to congress for an enabling act between two and four years before she got fairly into the fold in '67. Kansas held a constitutional convention and knocked hard at the door in '55, but didn't get in until '61. Prior to that time no state except Florida had to wait more than three years from the beginning of the agitation until she was fairly in the fold, and in most cases the time spent in getting in was but a few months. But now there are eight territories waiting to come in as states, and some of them have been asking that privilege nearly or quite a decade.

It would not be at all surprising to see the next congress at its second session admitting four or five, or perhaps, more than that of the waiting territories. As to the prospect of any of them getting in time to vote at next presidential election, which comes only a little over a year hence, it is not especially brilliant. It is probable that bills will be introduced for the admission as a state of every one of the remaining territories, excepting Alaska, at the first session, but as the second session would carry them over beyond the next presidential election, it is probable that they will be "stood off" for the final passage of the various acts until the closing session of congress, which meets in December next.

Army Funds Running Short.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The army is likely to be tied up this year much sooner than last for want of funds for transportation and mileage purposes. Upon recommendation of Quartermaster Gen. Hollabird a general order has been issued from the headquarters of the army, in which it is stated that the quartermaster's department will not hereafter furnish transportation in kind to officers traveling under orders. The law requires that transportation shall be furnished by the quartermaster's department, if practicable, but according to Gen. Hollabird, whose recommendation prompted the recent order, it will not be practicable this year in any case for the want of funds. Congress, while it requires the quartermaster's department to furnish transportation, made no extra appropriation for the purpose, and as a large amount of the regular transportation fund has already been set aside to carry out the important changes in stations of troops this summer, there is little money available to pay the traveling expenses of officers.

The condition of affairs necessitates the payment of both mileage and transportation by the pay department in all cases except where travel is performed in stages and overland grant roads. The pay department appropriation for this purpose for the current fiscal year is only $85,000 or $45,000 less than the appropriation for last year. It is, therefore, difficult to see how a very large deficiency in the army mileage account is to be avoided during the current fiscal year, unless congress early next winter should add to the appropriation for transportation the amount cut off from the mileage fund for the year. At the close of the past fiscal year there was a deficiency of over $3,000 on account of mileage, this deficiency was unavoidable, even with an appropriation of $120,000, when transportation was almost exclusively furnished by the quartermaster's department, and for two months before the close of the year travel was altogether suspended.

The $85,000 for this year will not last many months, if last year's experience can be considered as a guide, if transportation and mileage are both to be drawn from it. It is stated at the navy department that the preparations for the trial of the Chicago are progressing very slowly. The Boston is nearly ready for her trial, and it is thought that, within a few weeks she will be put through the six hours' speed test. Capt. Ramsey, who commands her, reports his cabin to be the hottest place on the vessel, and is endeavoring to devise some scheme by which the temperature may be reduced.

The Situation in Liberia.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Referring to a dispatch published recently stating that there was much dissatisfaction and suffering among the colored people who had emigrated to Liberia from this country, William Coppinger, the Liberian consul general and secretary of the colonization, said to-day that the report was a great exaggeration of the facts. "It is just the same in Liberia as the world over," said he, "some emigrants succeed and some fail. Mr. Coppinger said that he had received few complaints and they were unable to respond to all the applications received. Since our society was organized we have given homes to about twenty thousand colored people in the land of their fathers and we are sending others as fast as we can raise the necessary funds. We could send a million to-day if we had the money with which to do it. You have no idea of the unrest there is in the minds of the colored people and the desire they have to return to Africa.

"Why, where do most of these appeals come from?"

"Well, of course the bulk of them come from the south. But I am receiving large numbers of appeals from the colored people of Kansas, many of whom went there during the exodus some years ago. They didn't improve their condition as much as expected. At any rate, they are willing and anxious to exchange Kansas for Africa."

"What seems to be the reason of the desire of the colored people in the north for leaving the country?"

"They feel that they are not a part of the dominant race, and that they are not properly recognized socially and politically by the whites. The general public doesn't understand how strong this feeling is with negroes, and it will probably continue so."

LABOR NEWS.

The Coke Workers Have Called a Convention—Brooklyn Strike Ended.

PITTSBURG, July 19.—The coke workers have called a convention at Everson tomorrow to consider the advisability of causing a total suspension of work in the regions by calling upon those working at the advance to come out until the strike is settled. They think that a general shut down would soon compel the operators who want coke to bring a strong pressure to bear on the others. An attempt will probably also be made to stop the importation of new men by sending a committee to New York to explain the situation to any whom agents may propose to send in. There is no change in the situation to-day.

A Trade Movement Among Women.

BOSTON, July 19.—A movement which has been quietly projected in labor circles independently of the Knights of Labor, is that for the organization of women and girls in trades unions similar to the existing organizations of trades among men that have not affiliated with the knights. A meeting to take definite steps in the matter will be held about the middle of next month. The promoters expect to make Boston the pioneer of a movement which they hope to spread into other cities.

National Trades Convention.

CHICAGO, July 19.—The National Trades convention begins in this city to-day. There is a very large attendance of delegates from all parts of the Union, and many important matters will come up for consideration and action, among which are the recent great strikes among the building trades in this city and Pennsylvania. It is expected that Mr. Powderly will be here during a portion of the meetings and will take part in the proceedings.

End of the Brooklyn Elevated Strike.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 19.—The striking engineers and firemen on the Brooklyn Elevated railroad, finding that the company could not be induced to arbitrate, have given the matter up and gone off and sought employment elsewhere. They had very little difficulty in securing employment, and in some instances at better wages than paid them before.

Found Floating in the River.

CINCINNATI, July 19.—At 2 a. m. James Donohue, the night watchman on the wharf boat at the foot of Evans street, found the dead body of a man aged fifty floating in the river. He had gray hair and wore a black diagonal coat, jeans pants and a new pair of slippers. The body was removed to the morgue, where it was found that the skull over the right eye had been crushed in with some blunt instrument. The police think that it is a case of murder. The body had not been identified.

Dastardly Deeds.

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 19.—About 10 o'clock Saturday night a number of white men made a raid on a hall at Mongo, just south of this city, in which a colored ball was being held. Dynamite cartridges were exploded beneath the windows of the building, shattering the structure in many places. There were many narrow escapes and a number of people were injured. The perpetrators have not been arrested.

One Suicide and Two Deaths.

AKRON, O., July 19.—Farmer Charles Reed committed suicide by hanging, in his barn, Sunday. Mrs. Reed discovered and cut down the body of her husband, and immediately afterward became unconscious, in which state she has since remained. Physicians have no hopes of her recovery. The cause of Reed's action is unknown.
